The proposals for this library

By 2019, along with the rest of the County Council, the Library Service will have far less money to provide the service. The scale of the cuts means the Council has to rethink what it is able to directly provide.

We are therefore consulting on the following proposals which would affect library provision from this library:

The Council is proposing that there are 3 categories of library – Core, Hybrid and Community Managed. All libraries will be part of the North Yorkshire “family” of libraries and all will need volunteer involvement.

The Council proposes that this library is one of the Community Managed Libraries.

A community group/organisation would be responsible for the premises, but the council would provide a contribution to the building running costs.

The group would need to establish a management committee and recruit volunteers to run the library. NYCC would provide the books and equipment, training for volunteers and support from professional library staff. If no group/organisation comes forward, then the library would have to close. The library service would endeavour to provide some service from the Supermobile.

The management of the library would be overseen by a Joint Management Committee with equal representation from NYCC and the Community Library Group. The community library group would need to recruit and maintain a substantial pool of volunteers willing to commit to working in the library alongside paid staff.

The proposals for this library

By 2019, along with the rest of the County Council, the Library Service will have far less money to provide the service. The scale of the cuts means the Council has to rethink what it is able to directly provide.

We are therefore consulting on the following proposals which would affect library provision from this library:

The Council is proposing that there are 3 categories of library – Core, Hybrid and Community Managed. All libraries will be part of the North Yorkshire “family” of libraries and all will need volunteer involvement.

The Council proposes that this library is one of the Community Managed Libraries.

A community group/organisation would be responsible for the premises, but the council would provide a contribution to the building running costs.

The group would need to establish a management committee and recruit volunteers to run the library. NYCC would provide the books and equipment, training for volunteers and support from professional library staff. If no group/organisation comes forward, then the library would have to close. The library service would endeavour to provide some service from the Supermobile.

The proposals for this library

By 2019, along with the rest of the County Council, the Library Service will have far less money to provide the service. The scale of the cuts means the Council has to rethink what it is able to directly provide.

We are therefore consulting on the following proposals which would affect library provision from this library:

The Council is proposing that there are 3 categories of library – Core, Hybrid and Community Managed. All libraries will be part of the North Yorkshire “family” of libraries and all will need volunteer involvement.

The Council proposes that this library is one of the Community Managed Libraries.

A community group/organisation would be responsible for the premises, but the council would provide a contribution to the building running costs.

The group would need to establish a management committee and recruit volunteers to run the library. NYCC would provide the books and equipment, training for volunteers and support from professional library staff. If no group/organisation comes forward, then the library would have to close. The library service would endeavour to provide some service from the Supermobile.

There are no immediate proposals for any changes to the current stops, however a review will be undertaken following the outcome of the current consultation to ensure that this service is as effective as possible.

The proposals for this library (Hybrid)

By 2019, along with the rest of the County Council, the Library Service will have far less money to provide the service. The scale of the cuts means the Council has to rethink what it is able to directly provide.

We are therefore consulting on the following proposals which would affect library provision from this library:

The Council proposes that this library is one of the Hybrid Libraries.

We propose that Hybrid libraries operate in partnership with community groups/organisations. The library service would cover the premises costs and provide one member of staff who would work alongside volunteers to keep the library open.

The management of the library would be overseen by a Joint Management Committee with equal representation from NYCC and the Community Library Group. The community library group would need to recruit and maintain a substantial pool of volunteers willing to commit to working in the library alongside paid staff.
