A building or other land in a local authority's area is considered land of community value if, in the opinion of the authority:

- (a) an actual current use of the building or other land - that is not an ancillary use - furthers the social wellbeing or social interests of the local community; and
- (b) it is realistic to think that there can continue to be a non-ancillary use of the building or other land which will further (whether or not in the same way) the social wellbeing or social interests of the local community.

If there is no current use:

- (c) The definition is extended to land which has furthered the social wellbeing or social interests of the local community in the recent past., and which it is realistic to consider will do so again during the next five years.

How does the current main use of the building/land or a use in the recent past-five further the social interests or social well-being of the local community?
