The White Paper and Integrated Care Systems

The White Paper and Integrated Care Systems (ICS)

ICSs will be established, to include an NHS body and a Health and Care Partnership

The Health and Care Strategic Partnership

Be responsible for developing a plan that addresses the wider health, public health and social care needs of the system, with the NHS ICS board and local authorities having to regard that plan when making decisions.

Details regarding their functions and membership are to be left to the discretion of the local areas.

Humber Coast and Vale ICS (HCV) will operate through two strategic partnerships – North Yorkshire & York and The Humber.

The NHS Body will:

Be responsible for strategic planning, taking on the commissioning functions of CCGs and be directly accountable for NHS spend and performance within the system, with its chief executive becoming the accounting officer for NHS money allocated to the NHS ICS body.

As a minimum, include a chair, the chief executive and representatives from NHS trusts, general practice and local authorities, with others determined locally. ICSs will also need to ensure they have appropriate clinical advice when making decisions.

Be responsible for developing a plan to meet the health needs of the population within their defined geography; developing a capital plan for the NHS providers within their health geography; and securing the provision of health services to meet the needs of the system population.

Place level working will continue to be critical in the future

Place-based arrangements between local authorities, the NHS and providers of health and care will be left to local organisations to arrange.

The statutory ICS will work to support places to integrate services and improve outcomes.

Health and Wellbeing Boards will continue to have an important responsibility at place level to bring local partners together, as well as developing the Joint Strategic Needs Assessment and Joint Health and Wellbeing Strategy.

There is a strong emphasis on collaboration throughout the document

Strong emphasis on collaboration rather than competition as a key driver of improvement.

Duty to collaborate – between NHS partners and NHS and local authorities.

Continued emphasis on provider collaboration – both across system and in place.

It will be made easier for organisations to work closely together through joint committees – operating at place and system.
